ROYAL MARINE BAND.

Lovers of band music should turn out in force this evening at Poli's when Giannini's Royal Marine band will give its grand concert of the day. Through Massachusetts, where the band has been giving concerts in aid of the McKinley monument fund, it has had the most flattering endorsements for its fine playing, and many of the musical critics have not hesitated to pronounce it superior to Sousa's and others of the world's most famous bands. Had the engagement here been contracted for earlier the concerts would have been given here, too, in aid of the McKinley fund, but the band management has promised, in case of the receipts reaching a certain figure, to donate a percentage of the receipts for that purpose. An entire change of program from this evening's concert will be made this afternoon so that any who attend this afternoon will not have to hear the same selections in case of their attending to-night. Prices are 25, 35 and 50 cents.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE JACQUES.

More and more popular becomes vaudeville as exemplified daily under Mr. Poli's personal direction at the Jacques, and it is rarely a performance is given now that the house is not filled with a large and delighted audience. Especially is this the case this week, when the show is far and away the best that Mr. Poli has yet provided, fairly gleaming with features of attractiveness. The ladies, who have come to realize that vaudeville is all that has been claimed for it in the way of refinement, turn out in force, and at the matinees, when they have seats in all parts of the house for 10 cents, they fairly tax the capacity of the theater. It would be strange if this week's show didn't prove an extraordinary drawing one, for it is of rare excellence. Indeed, so much has it impressed Mr. Poli himself with its even poise and combined superiority that he is already arranging to place it in his new New Haven theater for Christmas week, realizing that it would have rare drawing powers during the holidays. As a double headline feature, Hal Davis and Miss Zelle Davenport in "One Christmas Eve," and Mazuz and Mazet in their marvelous acrobatic comedy could hardly be excelled for any price; certainly they have not been equaled by any that Mr. Poli has yet given us. And the other acts, one of a pair, while the marvelous vivacious pictures, particularly the historical tableaux of Joan of Arc, are wonderful in an extraordinary one for the prices: 10, 20 and 30 cents, and 10 and 20 cents for the matinees, with ladies sitting everywhere in the house for 10 cents.

"UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY."

Friday and Saturday will be merry evenings at Poli's, and Saturday night will be still merrier, when the well known rural comedy drama "Uncle Josh Spruceby" will be the attraction. The attraction is being presented ed in exceptionally good form this season, company and scenic equipment being a trifle ahead of last season. The play is one of those homely New England dramas with a beautiful story running through it. Comedy, pathos and sensation abound. Strict attention has been paid to detail and a full new set of scenery has been painted for this season. Undoubtedly a big crowd will attend to welcome "Sally," "Dutchy," "Out of Sight," the "Hayseed Band" and old "Uncle Josh" himself. No theatrical season is complete without the joys afforded by "Uncle Josh" and his fellow "Reubens." The elegant orchestra so long a feature of this company is still retained and, as usual, is still a source of delight. Seats are selling at popular prices, and there is a special bargain rate for the matinee.

FLYING MACHINE FOR $2,000.

Connecticut Inventor Says He Will Place Them on the Market.

For a retail price of $2,000 a flying machine will be placed on the market within the next half year if the plans of Gustave Whitehead of Bridgeport carry. Mr. Whitehead says he has his enterprise financed and he is confident of success. He now has fifteen machinists at work.

Six months ago Whitehead, whose name is Anglicized from Welskopf, made his first test of the machine, the principles of which are embodied in the model of the machine which he will sell to anyone who cares to buy. Mr. Whitehead will not reveal the name of the man who is furnishing the money, but he has been seen about the plant frequently, and is said to be a resident of New York. The machine is operated by steam, and immense wings and a propeller move it through the air. It also has an automobile attachment, which is used to raise it from the ground.

Whitehead says that when he first conceived the idea of a flying machine he noticed that birds run a few feet on the ground to gain headway before soaring, and he put in the automobile for that purpose. He is confident that his apparatus can make forty-five miles an hour, and says that he has already traveled at that rate of speed in his old model.

Whitehead is a native of Hungary. He came to Bridgeport a year ago, and has worked as night watchman for the Wilcox and Hobbs Manufacturing company, spending the most of his days in the shop which he built. Admittance to the plant is denied to all but himself, the stranger who is "financing" him and the workmen, who are bound to secrecy. The machine, the inventor says, will carry six persons.

Student Riots at Athens.
ATHENS, Nov. 21.—The agitation of the university students against the proposal to translate the gospels into modern Greek has resulted during the past two days in riotous demonstrations against two newspapers which have been advocating such translations. LIMITED TRAINS CRASH.

Seven Killed and Fourteen Hurt in a California Wreck.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 21.—A fatal wreck occurred on the Santa Fe railroad one mile west of Franconia, Ariz., a switch station twenty miles east of Needles, Cal., yesterday. Seven trainmen were killed, three passengers and fourteen trainmen injured. Limited trains, east and west bound, crashed together while running at full speed. The eastbound train was drawn by two engines, while the westbound train had but one locomotive. The three engines were crushed and blown to pieces by an explosion which followed the collision. Both trains were made up of vestibule cars of the heaviest kind, and while they stood the terrific shock well and protected the passengers to a great extent, several of the cars took fire at once and burned up. The dining cars, one on each train, one Pullman and two composite cars were destroyed.

Following is a list of the dead: P. M. Elligott, engineer; P. P. Goldsmith, fireman; E. F. Barnhardt, barber; Walter Davenport, waiter; W. L. Case, fireman; A. H. Amittage, fireman; Sam Brown, waiter. The bodies of the latter three are missing.

The collision is said to have been due to a disregarded order by the crew of the westbound train, though full particulars on this point are as yet lacking.

Not until the seventh ballot was Dr. Burgess' name mentioned, when he received 22 clerical and 22 laity votes. At each succeeding ballot his vote showed a marked gain.

The Ability

Of an instructor should be very much considered by those about to learn to dance properly. You should see the pupils dance in public first before you take lessons, especially from the many self-styled "professors" nowadays. The waltz and two-step are acquired perfectly in one season.

GIVES PRIVATE INSTRUCTION when not engaged with large classes. Class lessons are superior when taken at a thoroughly legitimate school for dancing.
